Beef and hog butchers at every packing house in South Omaha are now on a strike.

A large number of men quit yesterday morning and last evening all of the hog butchers on the Omaha plant walked out, making the whole number of strikers now about 2,000.

"The newspapers have been giving a good deal of space to what the packers have to say about the strike," said one of the men, "and I wish you would give the strikers a few lines." The gentleman was informed that The Bee would cheerfully publish any facts he had to give out, and he started in to do so.

WHAT A STRIKER SAYS. "To begin with," said the gentleman, "Swift & Co. could settle this strike in an hour if they chose to do so."

Another man, who was a packer, said that he had been in the business for 20 years, and that he had never seen a strike like this before.

He said that the packers were not doing any work, and that they were not getting any pay.
